GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., WEDNESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 24, 1884.

THE NATIONAL SENATE.

YESTERDAY'S DISCUSSIONS.

Concerning the "Record"-Additional Naval Appropriations Passed-Col. Thompsons's Nomination,

Washington, Dec. 23.-In the Senate today Mr. Vest (Dem., Mo.) offered a concurrent resolution providing that the Congressional Record shall be an accurate transcript of the debates, and no speech shall be pub-Hahed which was not spoken in the Senate or House of Representatives, and no changes shall be made except verbal corrections by the author, and any speech retained for correction shall be returned in one week, otherwise it shall be printed from the original notes of the reporter. He stated that in the 46th, 47th and 48th Congresses 569 speeches were printed which were never delivered in the House, and 1,183 speeches were withheld for revision and printed after adjournment. The result was that in some cases Congress had been compelled to expunge from the had been compelled to expunge from the record specches making offensive personal attacks which in fact had never been delivered. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Printing.

Mr. Jones (Dem., La.) presented a protest from the Commercial Exchange of New Orleans against the ratification of the Spanish

Mr. Hale (Rep., Me.) called up the House bill making temporary appropriation for the navy, with the Senate amendments as offered by him yesterday. He again explained that this was substantially the House's own but for the balance of the fiscal year. The bill was passed, the title being amended so as to read, "A bill making additional approprintions for the navai service for the fiscal year 1886," and will be sent over to the House for its action to-morrow. Mr. Morgan (Dem., Ala.) from the Committee on Public Lands, reported with amendments a bill to forfeit lands granted to the New Orleans, Baton Rouge & Vicks-At 1:10 p. m. the Senate went into execu-the House resolution adjourning till the 5th of January, only amending it by changing the date of adjournment from the 20th to the 24th (to-morrow.) The Senate also in executive session adopted a resolution of investigation into certain Cherokee land sales, and at 2 p. m. adjourned until to-morrow.

The President sent to the Senate to-day the nominations of Wm. B. Thompson, of Hudson, Mich., to second assistant postmaster general; Hiram Lenox, collector of customs for the district of Burlington, N. J.; Commodore Winfield Scott Schley to be chief of the bureau of equipment and recruiting in the navy department, with the rank of commodore; Wm. H. Pilkenton, of Kansas, to be receiver of public moneys at Wakeeney, Kansas, and a number of army and navy promotions,

The nomination of Wm. B. Thompson, of Budson, Mich., railway mail superintendent, to be second assistant postmaster general, was confirmed at once without reference, at the request of Senator Conger and also as a mark of appreciation of Mr. Thompson's management of the railway mail service.

Let Us Have a Michigan Man.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.-Friends of Mr. Vilas, of Wisconsin, are engaged in working up a cabinet boom for him. They urge upon Cleveland the importance of carrying Wisconsin four years hence, and point to the close vote there this year. With a little care. such as giving Wisconsin a place in the cabinet, the State may be made solid for the Democracy in 1888. Some Michigan states men have been aroused by the agreement. They claim that Michigan did much better towards the throwing off of the Republican yoke than Wisconsin, and if cabinet recognition is to be secured on that ground, Michigan is entitled to first chance. Accordingly rumors have got into circulation that the Michigan delegation will hold a conference soon after Jan. 5 and decide upon the recommending of some Michigan man for a cabinet portfolio. Who they will decide upon is

John G. Thompson's Case.

Washington, Dec. 23.—The sub-committee of the House Committee on Judicary, having under consideration the memorial of John G. Thompson, of Ohio, praying for an appropriation to reimburse him for personal expenses in defending himself against a damage suit brought by Hallett Kilbourne, agreed to-day to recommend to the full committee that Thompson be given a reasonable sum to cover expenses. The Committee at their last session recommended an appropriation of $20,000 to liquidate a judgment given Kilbourne in the Courts and the recommendation is now to be reserved.

The Inauguration Ball.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.-It has been decided that the in auguration ball shall be held in the new pension building. The committee have fixed the price of tickets at $5, complimentary ones to be issued only to President and vice-President and immediate party. The indications are that the city will be crowded.

A Destructive Fire.

Tuov, N. Y., Dec. 23.-A fire broke out this morning in Acker's building, on Main street, in Cambridge, Washington county, and, owing to the disabled condition of the hand fire engine belonging to the village, the fire burned itself out, destroying eight build-ings, four on each side of the street. The wind was blowing from the southwest, and that fact saved the rest of the village. One of the buildings burned was the principal hotel of the place. The loss will reach $100,000, on which there is an insurance of about one-balf.

Another Canadian.

Tozonto, Dec. 23.-The creditors of J. C. Kemp, absconded patent medicine manuacturer, find that they will have to accept 10 cents on the dollar. Kemp represented his solvency to be $60,000, whereas he has been losing for two years. He succeeded in getting $15,000 and has gone to the United States.

A RECEPTION.

President-Elect Cleveland Extends His Hospitality to Friends.

ALBANY, Dec. 23 .- A reception tendered by Cleveland to the friends who had extended him social courtesies, was held at the Executive Mansion this evening. The floral decorations throughout the mansion were most handsomely arranged. The guests entered from the north porch and exchanged greetings with the President-elect, who, in company with his sisters, Miss Cleveland and Mrs. Hoyt, occupied positions in the west parlor. The company assembled at 9 o'clock and an hour later repaired to the dancing hall, where Parlati's orchestra furnished music. Dancing was continued till a late hour. During the evening refreshments were served in the dining room. A long list of distinguished persons were present.

The Value of a Life-Saving Station. NANTUCKET, Mass., Dec. 23,-The threemasted schooner, Warren Sawyer, Sanders, master, from New Orleans to Boston, with a cargo of cotton and twenty-eight tons of iron, went ashore last evening in a thick fog on the went ashore last evening in a thick fog on the southwest side of Nantucket, near the United States life-saving station. The wind was blowing a gale from the southwest. At midnight the crew were taken from the rigging by the crew of the life-saving station. Had it not been for the life-saving crew, all hands must have perished, as the wind increased and they could not have held on until another crew could reach them. The cargo only may be saved. The vessel will probably prove a

New York, Dec. 23.—The American Electric Railroad Company met at Cyrus W. Field's residence in Gramercy Park last night and decided to issue invitations to patentees of electric railway appliances to assign inventions to the company and re-ceive from a board of arbitration proportionate shares of stock to be gauged according to the value of such mechanism. Patent-holders who do not avail themselves of this offer before Dec. 31 are to be excluded from all advantages. The board of arbitrators comprise Sir William Thomson, Geo. D. Roberts, James H. Rutter, Robert Harris and Prof. Cross, of the Massachusetts Institute of Eachpology. tute of Technology.

Casting a Big Gun.

Boston, Dec. 23,-About fifty persons gathered in the ordinance foundry of the South Boston Iron Works to-day to witness the casting of one of the experimental guns ordered by the United States Government. It was a beautiful sight. For thirty minutes the molten metal, golden lined and sparkling, flowed from three furnaces into the on mould which was buried into the earth to a depth of forty-five feet. The casting was quite successful. The dimensions of the gun are: Rough cast, 120 tons; when finished. 5 tons; length, 40 feet; bore, 12 inches.

Was It a "Special Providence?" Toronto, Dec. 23 .- Sunday evening last a Frenchman named Paquet, a pronounced infidel, was descanting on the "no hell" doctrine to a party of friends. He was just using the words, "Well, I am ready to run my chances that there's no hell," when he was suddenly struck with paralysis and fell to the floor. The whole of one side, from the toes to the top of the head, including the tongue, became paralyzed, and he has remained in that state ever since. He can only murmur "yes,or "no," but was reported a little better this morning.

The Search for Bodies.

BROOKLYN, Dec. 23.-The search for bodies in the ruins of St. John's Orphan Asylum was concluded to-day, without further discoveries. The funeral over the bodies found will take place to-morrow. The missing boys are returning from time to time, and it is believed all will be accounted for in a few days. The sum of $1,400 was subscribed to-day toward rebuilding the asylum, and clothing and provisions are being sent in by charitable people. As yet no time has been set for an inquest on the bodies of those who Opposing Mormonism.

CHICAGO, Dec. 23 .- A largely-attended citizens' anti-Mormon mass meeting was held in Farwell Hall to-night to consider the evil of Mormonism and urge upon Congress the imperative need of prompt and Congress the imperative need of prompt and radical legislation in order to avert a dangerous conflict. J. R. Doolittle, ex-United States Senator from Wisconsin, presided and made a brief speech. Dr. Meniece, of Salt Lake City, and Judge Loomis, Dr. Noble, and Rev. Frank Bristol, of Chicago, were among the other speakers.

McKee Rankin in Trouble.

New York, Dec. 23 .- Just before the performance of the Third avenue theatre was to begin, to-night, notice was served on the manager, McKee Rankin, that the orchestra would not play until they received the amount of the back salary claimed to be due them. The theatre was thereupon closed and a notice appeared upon the door that there would be no performance until Thurs-day afternoon, owing to the illness of Mrs. McKee Rankin.

Against the Murderess.

Sr. Louis, Dec. 23.-The case of Sadie Haves, colored, who murdered Sergeant Jenks, and was convicted in the Criminal Court of murder in the first degree and sen-Court of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hanged, came up in the Court of Appeals to-day on various exceptions. All the exceptions were over-ruled by the court, and the sentence of the lower court affirmed. Sadie's only hope now lies in an appeal to the Supreme Court.

A Southern Cyclone.

MACON, Ga., Dec. 23.-A cyclone passed over this section of the State yesterday, demolishing everything in its path. About 4 o'clock a large funnel-shaped cloud was seen approaching. The city grew dark, and suddenly a report like thunder rent the air. The cyclone passed around toward the southeast and disappeared. Five houses were destroyed, and lives are reported lost in Jones county and other parts of the State.

THE HOLCOMB TRIAL.

THE PROGRESS OF THE DEFENSE.

The Sick Juror Resumes His Seat and the Case Proceeds-Those Who Saw Dan Weeping.

the sick juror in the Holcomb case, came into court this morning. He was still feeling badly, but preferred to sit in the jury box, as he and all the jury are anxious to get through with the case, and the physicians thought he might be allowed to stay in the court room if he kept warm. The judge has finally determined to locate the jury permanently at the Stowell House, as they have a sitting room all to themselves, and this is more than they had at the boarding house.

When the case was opened to-day the de-fense called Walter Webb, Frank Morrison and Alonzo Shearer who saw Holcomb driving rapidly from the city the morning after the murder on the way back to the Crouch farm. A. E. Sutt n saw Holcomb by the bedside of Mr. and Mrs. White. Dan had a handkerchief to his face and witness thought he was weeping. Dr. Snyder swore that he was weeping. Dr. Snyder swore that Holcomb came up weeping to witness and said: "Who could have murdered this poor old man?" adding that he would have died soon of natural causes. Romeyne Thorne saw Holcomb in White's room the morning after the murder. Witness heard him say, "Oh, Eunice, who could have killed you?" Daniel S. Peterson saw Judd pick up two shells. Witness had passed over the spot where the shells were picked up by Judd, but did not see them till Judd started to pick them up. Witness swore at the examination that Holcomb got there about noon. To-day he thought it was at 10 o'clock. at 10 o'clock.

Gallagher Arrested for Forgery. CHICAGO, Dec. 23 .- W. J. Gallagher, arrested several times in connection with the election frauds case, was to-day re-arrested, charged with repeated forgeries in Philadelphia. He will be kept in custody of the United States Marshal, as the cases against him here will not allow his removal to Philadelphia.

An Illinois Defaulter.

CHICAGO, Dec. 23.-Supervisor John Culver, of Evanston, to-day procured the arrest of Max Habn, an ex-Supervisor of Evanston. Culver charges that he is a defaulter to the extent of $4,000. Hahn gave bail in the sum of $5,000. Hahn is a prominent official of the Chicago postoffice.

Australia's Protest.

London, Dec. 23 .- The Premier of the Government of Victoria has invited the governments of the other Australian colonies to unite in a protest against the seizure by Germany of portions of the coast islands of New Guinea.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Alvin Joslin" To-Morrow, and Thatcher, Primrose and West on Monday.

The press has very strongly endorsed 'Alvin Joslin" wherever the play has been presented. The opportunity of seeing the quaint old gentleman in this city again will be afforded to-morrow, when the play will be Jackson, Mich., Dec. 23.—George Page, presented both in the afternoon and in the evening. Reserved seats are for sale at Hall's. The Troy (N. Y.) Telegram says of the play:

The Charles L. Davis "Alvin Joslin" Comedy Company was the talk of the town, even before the curtain was rung up at the Griswold Opera House last night. The celebrated band in their showy uniform, and the grand display of diamonds in Cusack's show window, being the objects which set the people agog, and when the play commenced one of the largest and merriest audiences had assembled to enjoy the capital comedy. Mr. Davis is one of the most ingenious of actors. He does so much to amuse an audience that He does so much to amuse an audience that it would be simply impossible to give even a partial description of his comicalities in a review of moderate length. You should go and see him and enjoy the fun yourself. His company is good, the scenery and stage appointments unusually appropriate.

The Minstrels.

The critics have been very complimentary to Thatcher, Primrose & West's "Consolidated Minstrels."

The Baltimore Day says: The entertainment given stamps the Thatcher, Primrose & West Company as the best of the kind that has ever appeared in this city. Large audiences are assured for the rest of the week."

The Boston Post says: "Thatcher, Primrose & West's Consolidated Minstrels are probably the best exponents of refined minstrelsy on the American stage."

The Combination will appear here next Monday evening.

Coming to a Better Place. Capt. William A. Gavett, who recently resigned the position of special agent of the United States Treasury for Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Ohio, with headquarters at Detroit, has been appointed assistant general freight and passenger agent of the Chicago & West Michigan Railroad, with headquarters in this city. Mr. Gavett is one of the most active and energetic young men in the State, and will prove a valuable acquisition to the C. & W. M. R. R., in whose business his experience as general freight and passener agent of the Texas & St. Louis R. R. will prove invaluable in the discharge of his new duties. Capt. Gavett is widely known and has many friends in Michigan, not a few of whom reside in this city, who will be pleased to number him among our citizens.

A Farewell Supper.

The many gentlemen friends of Chas. B. Gallup, of whom there are a host, are preparing to give him a complimentary supper at The Morton next Saturday evening. The event will formally bid Mr. Gallup farewell as he leaves on the 30th inst. for Denver. Col., where he will reside. He has lived in this city for the past five years and has, through his amiable disposition and rare qualities of mind and heart, cultivated an extensive acquaintance which will deeply deplore his departure but find consolation in the fact that a constellation of bright and cheering prospects await him in his new

NOW FOR THE VERDICT

WHICH DECIDES MILLARD'S FATE.

The Defense Closed, and the Arguments Half Through-The Case Likely to Go to the Jury To-Day.

Dr. Vaughn again took the stand in the Millard trial yesterday morning and was cross-examined by Mr. Mitchell. He said vomiting, pain in the stomach, excessive thirst and jerking of the limbs are symptoms of other diseases. When arsenic is administered during life the analysis should discover the poison in the brain and muscle as well as the other parts of the body. In reply to the hypothetical question the witness said: "I should have to say that finding no arsenic in the brain or muscle, I should have to con-clude that death was not caused by arsenic."

He-direct—Bismuth, taken by a person, tends to darken the stool; find many diseases where the person has fever and the surface is cold; this is the case with chills; the surface and extremities are cold; the nails of the fingers purple; difficulties of the womb would not be discovered by simply taking the organ and looking at it 105 days after

Dr. Kedzie sworn—Have been with the Agricultural College twenty-one years as professor of chemistry; practiced medicine eleven years. In reply to the hypothetical question the witness answered: Should say she had a complication of diseases; the earlier symptoms indicate uterical troubles; the distress on May 3 may point to a malarial complication, pain in the stomach, which is relieved by pressure is illustrated by what is called wind colic; where pressure increases the pain there is evidence of inflammation; this is the case in arsenical poisoning; vomiting affords no relief in cases of arsenical iting affords no relief in cases of arsenical poison; the lower eyelid shows a puffiness in case of arsenical poisoning; almost any fever is accompanied by thirst; amongst the sec-ondary evidences of arsenical poisoning are dysentery, burning pain, smarting sensation; the nature of discharge would be different from that of dysentry; in arsenical poison the discharge would be different that of dysentry; in arsenical poison the discharge would be different the diarrhoa will continue from day to day until the poison was entirely eliminated; we may find fever when the surface and extremities are cold; this is found by the use of the thermometer; a portion of those symptoms are hysterical symptoms; have made experiments with animals by injecting arsenic after death and finding that it diffuses and may be found in all of the organs in weighable quantities; if injected into a body after death should expect to find it in the muscles of the calves of the leg; if it had been administered for nine days prior to death and ministered for nine days prior to death and on the day of death a fatal dose given, I should expect on analyzing the body to find quantities in the muscles of the calves of the have made an examination of soils for the purpose of ascertaining if arsenic could be found therein: an examination of soil six months after the arsenic had been placed there resulted in finding arsenic; would expect arsenic to be found in the vomit and excretions where it had been given in poisonous doses; if the soil where the vomit and the excretions were thrown were examined I should expect to find arsenic.

Cross-The plowing of the ground or the growing of crops thereon where the vomit and excretions were thrown, would not de-stroy the arsenic; if the vomiting was caused by any irritating substance in the stomach it would relieve the patient; if there was in-flammation of the stomach the vomiting would not afford relief; have never made any experiment in searching for arsenic in the brain; my knowledge upon the subject is gained from the books and from general sources; if the arsenic had been injected in to the body three or four hours after death, could not say how long it would take it to reach the most extreme part of the body.

Re-direct—When two grains of arsenic were absorbed I should expect to find it in weighable quantities in the brain.

Judge Marston then introduced the depositions of several witnesses tending to con-tradict some of the medical evidence given. The People then called Polly Percival for rebuttal: On the evening of the death of Mrs. Millard had some conversation with Matthew; Mrs. Beach was present; did not state that this process of embalming was all right as my son's wife was embalmed. Ella Kimball-Know Mr. Millard; was at his house on the night of his wife's death; was in the kitchen with Mrs. Beach and Mrs. Mendeville; heard respondent say that "my wife is gone, but I have done all I could for her;" Louisa Wortman then said, "If you have done all you could for her, you have prosecution immediately after the opening of court in the afternoon. He spoke for an hour and a quarter. His argument was noticeable for a clear and comprehensive condensation of the testimony, which he arranged in a convincing form as establishing the claims of the prosecution, a plain dis-cussion of the facts in a logical, forcible manner. Mr. Davis was followed by Judge Marston who occupied the remainder of the afternoon in utilizing the evidence for the afternoon in utilizing the evidence for the defense of the respondent. Every trivial point was carefully and powerfully considered, and he used the conflictions in the expert testimony to advantage. The Judge is a rapid, fiery, earnest talker, frequently waxing eloquent, and his address was listened to by a crowd that occupied every visible space on the floor of the court, and who by the intermingling of their breaths made the atmosphere nauseating and almost unbearable. This morning Mr. Blanchard will speak for the defense, after which Mr. Mitchell of the prosecution will close. Judge Montgomery will then deliver his charge to the jury this afternoon.
